THE NATIONAL RASH

- 3.(7) About 500 years ago a young Scotch Shepherd started something -
- 4.(8) He swung at a loose stone with a shepherd's crook - and Golf was born.
- 5.(8) Ten minutes later they were both golf bugs looking for a Willing Listener.
- 6.(10) From that first swing millions have been lured from happy homes to rave in bunkers and traps.
- 7.(15) 500 years later a billion dollars has been spent on 250,000 acres for a million players. Bobby Jones, the finished product, arrives -
- 8.(9) Open Golf Champion of the United States at 21 and one of the greatest that ever played -
- 9.(4) Master of form, rhythm and power -
- 10.(7) Even the champions reach the bunkers - but the champions can get out.
11. Omit.
- 12.(6) One of his finest strokes -- a mashie shot to the pin.
- 13.(12) Playing with Jess Sweetser, ex-champion, Jones leads a winning attack on Sarazen and Hagen over the Winged Foot course.
- 14.(12) All ages, male and female, from city and farm now play golf. Even the cowboys have caught the National Rash. Banff, Alberta.
- 15.(5) Bronchos, spurs and brassies now travel together.
- 16.(8) Where you can find the "golf widows" now -
The Women's Championship,
Westchester-Biltmore.
- 17.(5) This is one of the big events of the year in sport.
- 18.(8) Miss Edith Cummings of Chicago, the new champion, shows the power of her swing.
- 19.(3) The "Old Man's Game" -
- 20.(6) Young Lee Maxwell, aged six, starts training to trim his dad.
- 21.(5) After all it's the Duffer who plays and pays.
- 22.(8) Here are the 98 percent who foot most of the bills and get most of the exercise.

- 23.(4) Taking the famous Water Cure -
- 24.(5) Life for him is just one bunker after another.
- 25.(5) Rougher than trench life in the late world war.
- 26.(8) Yet when all seems lost the miracle sometimes happens - the ball must stop somewhere.
- 27.(8) A slight contrast - Gene Sarazen, professional champion, shows the main secrets.
- 28.(5) The Briarcliff star keeps his eye on the ball.
- 29.(8) The back-spin pitch with a cut, making the ball flop like an egg where it lands.
- 30.(6) The dream of every duffer - to hit one on the nose like this -
- 31.(14) Above all there is the rare beauty of the ancient game as it leads to hill or sea, by lake or forest to the distant skyline.
Mid-Ocean, Bermuda.
- 32.(3) The End.
